IRELAND

Ireland does not require Ukrainians to have a visa or a passport to enter Ireland. While immigration services and airlines must be satisfied as to the identity of the individual travelling, airport authorities will accept Government issued identity documents, such as National ID Cards and birth certificates.

Ukrainians may avail of the Temporary Protection Directive which allows Ukrainians to live and work in Ireland without a visa. Under the Temporary Protection Directive, Ukrainians may benefit from welfare income supports, accommodation, and healthcare in Ireland for a period of 1 year, with the possibility of further extension. There is no immediate requirement to register your immigration permission.

Family members, such as spouses, unmarried partners, close relatives, and children may also benefit from Temporary Protection. Refugees and stateless persons in Ukraine can also benefit from Temporary Protection.

Upon arrival at the airport, you should speak to an Immigration Officer, who will ask you some basic questions in relation to your needs, and you will then be brought to a reception area. If you arrive in Dublin Airport, you will be brought to the reception hub at CityWest Convention Centre in Dublin. If you require accommodation, you should convey this message to the Immigration Officer, who will direct you further. You will then be given a permission letter by the Department of Justice confirming that you have been granted Temporary Protection under the EU Directive. There is no requirement to quarantine or to have a PCR test upon arrival.

To receive government public services or to access the labour market you will need a Personal Public Services Number (PPSN) You can find information on how to get a PPSN, what income supports you can get while you are in Ireland, and how to get these supports and services here: gov.ie - Social Welfare supports for those arriving from Ukraine under the EU Temporary Protection Directive \(www.gov.ie\)

If you have not yet accessed state supports, or you arrived in Ireland before March 9th, there are dedicated Ukraine Support Centres in Cork, Dublin, and Limerick, you may find further details on the opening hours and the location of these centres, under “Where to go to get government supports” at the same link as directly above.

If you are outside of these locations, you may find a list of Intreo centres where you may find help here: gov.ie - Intreo centres and local branch offices \(www.gov.ie\)

If you avail of Temporary Protection under the Directive, it is not necessary to apply for international protection such as asylum.

In the case of children, no force is required - the very act of transporting a child into exploitative conditions constitutes trafficking. You can read more about the different types of human trafficking, including warning signs that can help you to identify victims, on the Government's anti-human trafficking website, blueblindfold.gov.ie. If you are concerned that a child or young person may have been trafficked, you should report your concerns to AGS without delay at 1800 666 111 or 999/112 or blueblindfold@garda.ie.
